Paul Corbit Brown and Keeper of the Mountains

Paul Corbit Brown and Keeper of the Mountains Foundation receive this year's Henry Mathews Award for their special commitment to environment protection and human rights.

Brown and the Foundation are dedicated to saving the Appalachian Mountains in West Virginia. They are strongly committed to fight mountaintop removal by mining companies and its financing by the banks.

In 2013 Brown spoke at ten annual general meetings of incorporated companies in Europe and called upon the executive boards to stop making profits at the expense of human beings and the environment. By this he made an exceptional contribution to Ethical Shareholders' project „Strengthening Ethical Shareholding – Calling Companies to Account for Their Ecological and Social Responsibility“.
